Leadership transition and a new phase at Kans Capital

Mexico City, March 27, 2026 – Kans Capital, private equity firm based in Mexico, announces the departure of José Antonio Chávez Vargas, who at the end of February 2026 decided to embark on a new professional chapter with the launch of Unda Capital, an institutional private equity firm focused on investments in Mexico and the United States.

Kans Capital will continue under the leadership of its Founder and Managing Partner, Adriana Sandoval, maintaining its focus on the identification, execution, and management of investment opportunities in high-potential companies within the middle market segment. The firm will continue to prioritize businesses with proven models, experienced management teams, and strong competitive positions.

Since its founding, Kans Capital has recorded sustained growth in its assets under management and has built a diversified portfolio across multiple sectors, including investments in Grupo Carolo, Lottus Education, and hospitality assets in the United States. With a disciplined investment strategy and a clear focus on long-term value creation, the firm reaffirms its commitment to generating attractive risk-adjusted returns for its investors, as well as to continuing to strengthen its investment and execution track record.

Kans Capital thanks José Antonio for his valuable contributions throughout his tenure and wishes him the very best of success in this new professional chapter.

About de Kans Capital
Kans Capital is a Mexican private equity fund dedicated to investing in high-growth companies across various industries. With a focus on creating value and supporting long-term growth, Kans Capital partners with dynamic businesses to help them achieve their strategic objectives.

Press Contact
Sofia Fraser
Miranda Partners, Senior Analyst
sofia.fraser@miranda-partners.com
+1 917 657 7577